Dear Jim:

After a little over ten months of frenetic construction activity, Glenview residents are now enjoying the newly constructed Roosevelt Pool. Almost to a person, the comments are wildly positive, especially in relation to how the new facility replicates the old 1940 design while still providing a state-of-the-art aquatic facility.

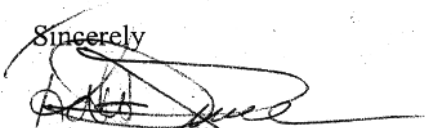

As we near our first month of operation I have just now had the opportunity to reflect on the many challenges that were overcome in order to make this facility a reality, both on time and under budget. It occurs to me that B & E Aquatics was a huge factor in making this possible.

I would especially like to express my gratitude to John and Dave who, throughout the project, exhibited professionalism, competency and a cooperative attitude with all other trades on site. I was most impressed though with their willingness to do whatever it took to get the pool open on time regardless of the roadblocks presented to them, mostly by the Koala Playgroup. John and Dave put in whatever hours necessary to make sure that the pool was ready, first for the pre-season event on June 12 and then for opening day on June 18. Time after time the Koala Playgroup disappointed us and time after time John and Dave found a way to keep moving forward. The fact that they walked out the side gate as the public streamed in the front door is a testament to their hard work.

While significant issues remain with the Koala Play piece and will have to be addressed in the fall, it is to B & E's credit that we opened at all! You have quickly set yourself apart as one of the best in aquatic facility construction. I would be happy to discuss my experience with your company with any prospective client looking for references.

Please pass along my thanks to John and Dave. Their knowledge and technical skills are surpassed only by their dedication to their work!

Sincerely

Robert D. Quill
